How often should my client use this product?

We recommend using it twice a day (morning and evening).

Does my client have to use both Intensive Moisture Cleanser and Intensive Moisture Balance?

Your client should use the products that are best suited for their lifestyle and skin condition, as determined during their Face Mapping® skin analysis. Clients with dry or very dry skin can benefit from using these two products every day.

Will this product cause breakout activity?

Intensive Moisture Balance should not cause breakout activity. However, if your client does experience an adverse skin reaction, please advise them to stop using this product until the cause of their reaction can be determined.

Is this product replacing an existing product?

Intensive Moisture Balance will replace the existing formula; however, the new formula will look and feel the same.

What is the key difference between this formula and the discontinued formula?

The new Intensive Moisture Balance features an innovative BioReplenish Complex™ that delivers nourishment beyond the skin's surface to help restore lipid balance to dry, depleted skin. The new retail formula also features a twist-off cap instead of a flip-cap.

Yes, provided they are not allergic or contraindicated to any of its ingredients.
